

29th annual Community Night brings town together

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

Holyoke's 29th annual Community Night, sponsored and hosted by Holyoke Chamber of Commerce, received a good turnout Monday night, March 12 at Holyoke High School.

The event saw 350 people enjoy the free meal while also visiting the many tables and organizations. Contributors to the meal and scrip prizes were Seaboard Foods, FBLA members, Grainland Cooperative, MV Equipment, Scholl Oil and Transportation, Highline Electric Association, Holyoke Marketplace, Ag Power Equipment Company, Holyoke General Store and Holyoke Enterprise. Melissa Memorial Hospital staff helped serve the meal.

Who needs a table? Hailey, Rebekkah and Chad St. Martin took to the bleachers to enjoy their meal Monday night during Community Night at Holyoke High School.
