

It's a treasure hunt at 2012 Holly Daze

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

It's gifts galore at the annual Holly Daze event Saturday, Oct. 27, so shoppers set out for a treasure hunt to find the cutest presents, best bargains and most unusual homemade crafts. Sponsored by Jolly Dozen FCE, the vendor show set up in Holyoke High School helps raise funds for scholarship money as well as other donations to local organizations. Pictured above, Elia and Layna Wear show off their new stuffed animals, while other shoppers carefully look over the jewelry at one of the many booths, pictured below.

Jolly Dozen also sponsored a pumpkin contest this year. Winners for grades 4-6 are Gabi Gordon, first; Isaiah Hatton, second; and Ashley Rahe, third. In the K-3 contest, Caiden Vowell was first and Sebastian Lopez second.□ □

—Enterprise photos

It's a treasure hunt at 2012 Holly Daze

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

Holyoke Enterprise November 1, 2012