

More wind and snow for Holyoke

Written by Holyoke Enterprise
Wednesday, 17 April 2013 12:58 -

While still recovering from the April 8 wind damage, Holyoke received another round of spring snowfall Monday, April 15. The town woke up Tuesday to find a fresh 2.1 inches of snow had been dumped on the town throughout the night. As opposed to the last storm, the snow was accompanied by a much calmer wind that turned trees and shrubbery into beautiful icy sculptures, as pictured.□ □ —Enterprise photo

Holyoke Enterprise April 18, 2013