

Holly Daze marks '50'

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

Touted as an unusual program in 1963, Holly Daze in Holyoke continues to draw a crowd from a four-state area 50 years later.

Eighty vendors from Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas and Wyoming filled 111 spaces in the HHS commons area, old gym, JH commons and hallways Saturday, Oct. 26.

Coordinator Marianne Sullivan said vendors reported a great day at the holiday art and craft fair.

Sullivan, with Jolly Dozen Club, has been the Holly Daze coordinator since 1980. Her daughter, Kim Kramer, has a diagram and makes maps for the ease of setup.

When Kramer got sick this year, her daughter, Josi Wambach, stepped in to help out her grandma.

For the full article, call 970-854-2811 for more information about setting up an e-Subscription.

Holly Daze marks '50'

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

Holly Daze organizer Marianne Sullivan, pictured second from left, has a fun time at Denise Hase's jewelry booth while her granddaughters and great-granddaughters take in all the information and merchandise. Pictured from left are Hase, Sullivan, Layna Wear, Josi Wambach, Elia Wear and Gina Wear.□□

—Enterprise photo

Holyoke Enterprise October 31, 2013