

Circle of Friends women's retreat set for Feb. 22

Written by Darci Tomky

Continuing this year's theme of "Stand Firm when Life Changes," Circle of Friends is hosting its big women's retreat Saturday, Feb. 22 at Phillips County Event Center in Holyoke.

All women and high school girls are invited to this free interdenominational event featuring speaker Stephanie Henderson, praise and worship, fellowship and lunch by Allyn Robinson.

Women should RSVP by Wednesday, Feb. 12 to Sheryl Farnsworth, 970-854-5123, msfarns@pctelcom.coop; or Nancy Kennedy, 970-854-3749, kennedyn@pctelcom.coop.

Coordinators said it's important for them to provide events free of charge, as God has always provided for the needs of Circle of Friends.

As Circle of Friends is looking at their "Stand Firm when Life Changes" theme at a series of events this year, the Feb. 22 main event will focus on "Developing a Firm Foundation."

"We have things we struggle with, and we wonder where God is. It really challenges your faith," said Farnsworth, one of the women on the Circle of Friends coordinating team. "You need to know what your foundation is and how to build on it."
