Kanin and Kinsley Koberstein of Holyoke are new junior members of the American Angus Association®, reported Bryce Schumann, CEO of the national organization with headquarters in Saint Joseph, Mo.

Junior members of the Association are eligible to register cattle in the American Angus Association, participate in programs conducted by the National Junior Angus Association and take part in Association-sponsored shows and other national and regional events.

The twins will turn 5 later this month and are the son and daughter of Jason and Krystle Koberstein.

The American Angus Association is the largest beef breed association in the world, with more than 25,000 active adult and junior members.
