

CDL testing location back in Holyoke

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

Phillips County is again operating a CDL testing site in Holyoke, sponsored by Grainland Cooperative and Highline Electric Association.

Due to the lack of a testing location in Phillips County, residents had to use a testing site in Logan County for the last few years. Phillips County will now be using parking space owned by Highline for the CDL testing.

Matt Meusborn, who has 10 years experience as an instructor, will be the testing examiner. Anyone interested in the CDL testing should call Meusborn at 970-466-9129 to set up an appointment.

Holyoke Enterprise February 14, 2013