Will Brack drove the Brack Family Owned, Buckeye Welding Supply Hughes for the win Sunday, April 28 at Phillips County Raceway. The win marked the first for Brack on the 2013 Precise Racing Blood, Sweat and Tears Series for IMCA Xtreme Motor Sports Modifieds tour.

Lloyd Meeske took the win in the Chubby Chassis BST Series for IMCA Sunoco Stock Cars.

Colt Gibbs took his first IMCA Sunoco Hobby Stock win, while Jacob Adler chalked up another IMCA Karl Chevrolet Northern Sport Mod win.

With the scratch of pole-sitter Beau Speicher from the field, Greg Gustus and Tyson Groves were in the front-row for the Modified feature. Will Brack started fourth and was able to get by Gustus and set sail. Jesse Taylor, in his second IMCA Modified race, jumped into the No. 2 position from the eighth starting position, but was not able to get by Brack. Brack took the win over an impressive Taylor, Jeremy Frenier, Garrett Sporphase and John Hansen.

Lloyd Meeske and Jesse Taylor were on the Stock Car feature. Meeske and Taylor put on a show for the fans with the lead. Justin Bussell was in the mix as well. Meeske was able to claim the win over Taylor, Bussell, Jeff Whiting and Casey Woken.

Trevor Geist and Jason Brees were the front row for the Northern Sport Mod feature. Jacob Adler and Tripp Gaylord shot to the lead and fought for the top position. Gaylord's day ended when he lost his drive-shaft in turn two. Chad Dolan moved up to the two position, but was unable to catch Adler.

Adler and Dolan were followed by Geist, Mike Lininger and Ryan Moser.

Greg Dannett and Jim Moore were the front row for the Hobby Stock feature. Colt Gibbs took command of the lead and went on to post his first career win.

Dannett placed a career best second over Michael Johnson, Marshall Curson and Jim Moore.
