

Lady Dragon golf team takes top spot at home invitational

Written by Kyle Arnoldy

After a three-week break from competition, the Lady Dragon golf team made a triumphant return to the links, earning a first-place finish at the Thursday, April 25 home invitational.

Holyoke took the top spot with a team score of 339, edging second-place Wray by four strokes. Makayla Spitz, Alyssa Cordova and Caitlyn Kramer each posted a score of 113 for the round, tying them for a fourth-place finish on the day, along with Janell Sprague of Wray.

Alyssa Cordova prepares to launch a tee shot on the first hole of the Holyoke Golf Course during Thursday's tournament. □ □

—Enterprise photo

Lady Dragon golf team takes top spot at home invitational

Written by Kyle Arnoldy

A scorecard playoff determined that Sprague placed fourth; Spitz, fifth; Kramer, sixth; and Cordova, seventh.

Alex McCallum competed as the fourth varsity golfer and shot a 120 in the tournament.

Burlington, Brush and Yuma also competed in the Holyoke Invitational.

Coach Garrett Gordon said the team began the day a bit rusty, but by the end of the tournament, their swings were returning to form. Being unable to practice a full round outside because of the weather affected the consistency of the team, especially within 50 yards of the green, noted Gordon.

Three Holyoke golfers competed in the nine-hole junior varsity competition. Kelsey Kramer led the pack with a round score of 69. Missy Slack shot a 72 and Kaylee Ham shot a 74 on the day.

Gordon said the girls played hard and made many improvements from the last tournament.

Caitlyn Kramer watches her putt from a few feet

Lady Dragon golf team takes top spot at home invitational

Written by Kyle Arnoldy

out head towards the cup on the ninth hole during the Thursday, April 25 Holyoke Invitational.□□

—Enterprise photo

Upcoming action

The girls face a busy schedule in the next week as they make up postponed tournaments from earlier in the month. They are scheduled to travel to Ft. Morgan Wednesday, May 1. Results will be featured in next week's Enterprise. HHS will head to Wray Friday, May 3.

Holyoke Enterprise May 2, 2013