

Lady Dragons face tough competition

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

Holyoke's junior varsity and C team volleyball girls dug in for tough matches on the road with the Yuma Lady Indians Friday, Oct. 4.

The JV squad put up a fight before falling in three sets. After losing in the first game 5-25, the girls in green had a much better second set. Holyoke earned the win by beating Yuma 26-24 in the closely-fought game.

Yuma got the best of the Lady Dragons once again in the third set as the Lady Indians pulled away with a 15-5 victory.

C girls fell in Yuma 13-25 and 6-25.

The C team returned to the court for a quad with Fleming, Wray and Chase County. Neb., Monday, Oct. 7.

For the full article, contact us about subscribing to our e-Edition. 970-854-2811

Holyoke Enterprise October 10, 2013