

FBLA, FCCLA celebrated

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

Students at Holyoke High School have been busy this week, Feb. 10-16, celebrating National FBLA Week and National FCCLA Week.

In honor of FBLA Week, Holyoke's Future Business Leaders of America chapter implemented many activities for FBLA promotion.

On Monday, officers hung posters around the school honoring members for their awards at last Thursday's district conference. Members "suited up" in business attire on Tuesday, and officers hosted a Root Beer Float Social for the officers of all school organizations on Wednesday. The week was set to end with teacher appreciation on Thursday.

Family, Career and Community Leaders of America chapters across the nation are honoring National FCCLA Week with various activities to promote FCCLA.

Holyoke's chapter is creating locker decorations for members, honoring teacher alumni with gifts and redecorating an FCCLA bulletin board. Gearing up for the state FC CLA conference, which is held April 11-13 in Denver, members are preparing and perfecting projects.

Holyoke Enterprise February 14, 2013