

Wait... I did what?

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

---

Even though participants were still conscious of what they were doing, they let their imaginations run wild at the Dragon Hoopsters fundraiser with hypnotist Frederick Winters. HHS auditorium was filled with laughter Sunday, April 6 as students, faculty and community members did everything from a dance competition to a Kentucky Derby race.

Hypnotist Frederick Winters, pictured in back center, wants to know just what participants are thinking as the men believe they are laying eggs and the ladies try to analyze the situation. Pictured from left are Jeff Tharp, Bret Miles and Lori Nelson.

—Enterprise photo

To read the full article, call us about setting up an e-Subscription. 970-854-2811

Holyoke Enterprise April 10, 2014