

More rain for northeast Colorado

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

A noon-hour storm passed through Holyoke Monday, Sept. 23, dumping rain around town. Officially, only .06 inches of rain fell, but reports from around town indicate as much as an inch at various spots. A body of water formed along Scheunemann Street west of Interocean Avenue as soon as the heavy rain began but disappeared quickly as the sun came out shortly after the rain had stopped.
