

Sugar beet harvest under way

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

The sugar beet harvest hit Holyoke Thursday, Oct. 3 as trucks began stockpiling sugar beets a few miles north of Holyoke. While the harvest has just begun, Les Watada of Western Sugar Co. said early truckloads have had a good quality and tonnage, and he has heard some people say they expect around 35 tons per acre.□ □

—Enterprise photo

Holyoke Enterprise October 10, 2013