

Sleds and snow—it just doesn't get much better!

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

Cody Maloney shows no fear as he sails down the slope at Holyoke Golf Course Monday morning, Feb. 24. With no school scheduled anyway that day, kids throughout town enjoyed some snowtime fun. Local weather observer Dan Kafka reported a total of 7.2 inches of snow for not quite a half inch moisture in the Saturday-Sunday snowfall Feb. 22-23.

A sled ride behind a horse is just the ticket for Janna Smith Monday morning, Feb. 24 as Kaitlyn Kent has fun riding the sled-puller southeast of Holyoke.

Macie Maloney clearly enjoys her morning on the Holyoke Golf Course slopes as she

Sleds and snow—it just doesn't get much better!

Written by Holyoke Enterprise

flies down the hill on her sled.

Taryn Knight, pictured at left, and Gabi Gordon work on their snowman in a sled lane at the golf course. The intent was to plow through the snowman on the downhill slide.

—Enterprise photos

Holyoke Enterprise February 27, 2014